Information Security Management Services by NTT DATA

NTT DATA Services
formerly Dell Services

Prevent lost revenue, minimize downtime and proactively respond to potential security breaches

In a connected IT environment, your technology team is expected to continuously prevent and protect against data loss — of intellectual property as well as customer data. It is critical to ensure the right level of cybersecurity that does not compromise usability and costs, while providing an adequate level of asset protection.

And now, the rapid growth in mobility and an always-connected workforce is adding to this challenge. Shifting toward virtualized worlds and cloud solutions has made it more complex to manage security and ensure adherence to compliance requirements.

Trust NTT DATA to help you overcome these challenges and achieve security objectives such as:

- Protecting your information assets
- Improving your regulatory compliance
- Reducing costs
- Removing complexity

Information Security Management Services by NTT DATA integrate seamlessly into any complex enterprise environment. Our service delivery is tailored to each engagement, allowing us to serve as an extension of your security teams. Focused on protecting your digital assets against cyberthreats, our services provide an intelligent defense that combines technology with global threat visibility and industry-recognized expertise.

We provide you with unmatched visibility into your security and compliance efforts and help you respond to security breaches, and minimize downtime and lost revenue by taking appropriate action when a system is compromised. Our services utilize industry best practices to provide a complete strategy and response to security incidents.

Key benefits:

- Alignment between information security and business objectives
- Appropriate security management systems address security vulnerabilities
- Security expertise streamlines and integrates information security processes to improve business operations, reduce risks, preserve data integrity and ensure compliance
- Proactive and efficient vulnerability management processes ensure regulatory compliance, business continuity and asset protection
- Timely and effective support for audits, risk assessments and compliance activities

Enhance your information security management program with our expertise

Our information security managers (ISMs) are certified professionals who oversee the information security program and orchestrate the delivery of information security services. ISMs act as your trusted partner, collaborating with you to understand, anticipate and recommend risk mitigation strategies while providing information security protection for your assets. By providing you with a personalized information security service delivery management model, we:

- Ensure that information security services are optimized to meet your relevant polices and regulatory standards
- Work with information security delivery teams to ensure integration of the latest threat intelligence into appropriate information security architectures
- Enable an integrated and comprehensive information security incident response process that provides timely and effective response to information security events
- Analyze your information security architecture and establish an information security roadmap that addresses emerging risks

Working in collaboration with you and our ISMs, our certified information security architects design security solutions to ensure that your ongoing information security goals are met through the deployment of processes and technology across the organization.

> Engage with NTT DATA to oversee your security management program and orchestrate the delivery of information security services.
